

Wetherby Asset Management is a San Francisco Certified Green Business

We are proud to announce that Wetherby Asset Management is now a certified San Francisco Green Business, joining over 300 local businesses in instituting best-in-class sustainability practices and supporting a greener economy.

The San Francisco Green Business program is part of the California Green Business Network, which supports small- to medium-sized businesses in adopting practices to make the planet safer, cleaner and more sustainable. Certified businesses undergo a rigorous audit of how they purchase, use and dispose of goods and resources with a key focus on pollution prevention, waste management, conservation practices, water management and energy efficiency.

“As a firm committed to being responsible stewards of our environment, we pursued this certification as one of many steps our team has taken to ensure that our values and business practices are aligned,” responded Justina Lai, Director of Impact Investing. “We are grateful for the expert advice and guidance from the Green Business certification process as it helped us to comprehensively evaluate our sustainability practices and identify areas for improvement.”

Amongst other changes, Wetherby offices now use 100% post-consumer waste recycled paper products and non-toxic cleaning products. Our existing composting and recycling facilities now include opportunities to recycle electronics and batteries. We have also incorporated these sustainable changes as enhancements to our existing corporate social responsibility policy to institutionalize these practices into the future.

Together, certified Green Businesses are taking action to conserve resources, reduce pollution and be part of the solution for the pressing environmental challenges facing us today. For additional information, including a directory of all certified Green Businesses and how businesses can begin the certification process, please visit <https://greenbusinessca.org/>.